Auckland. Welcome to the City of Sails! Spread across a narrow isthmus, cosmopolitan Auckland rests between two sparkling harbors, the Waitemata on the Pacific Ocean and the Manukau on the Tasman Sea, making it a paradise for sailing, boating and water sports enthusiasts. With a population of 1.7 million, it's home to roughly one-third of all Kiwis, as New Zealanders are affectionately known. On a guided walk, take in the lively downtown scene and local landmarks. Hear about Auckland's M ori heritage and interesting aspects of Kiwi culture as well as the European colonization of New Zealand. In 1840, the M ori chiefs and the British Crown signed a treaty that made New Zealand a British colony, resulting in an influx of settlers from England and Scotland.

Tonight, gather for a Welcome Reception at the hotel.

Day 4 | Auckland

Grand Millennium Auckland

Start each day with a hearty breakfast at your hotel.

Auckland Museum: Curator's Tour. Gain illuminating details about New Zealand's M ori culture, natural history and place within the Pacific as an expert leads you through the museum's exceptional galleries. View one of the world's premier collections of M ori taonga, or treasures. Marvel at intricately woven textiles, carved stone and wooden artifacts, a full-size traditional meeting house and much more.

Relax with your group later during lunch at a restaurant in charming Parnell.

Free Time: Enjoy some time on your own this afternoon.

Enrichment: The Legend of Tamaki Makaurau. New Zealand's first inhabitants were the M ori, whose ancestors arrived by canoe from Polynesian islands between 1250 and 1300 A.D. According to legend, the first indication of land in the distance for these explorers was an aotearoa, or a long, white cloud, which became their name for the islands. Stories such as this were passed down to subsequent generations as part of the M ori oral tradition. A local expert shares the legend of Auckland's origins and other folklore.

This evening, join your fellow travelers for a Welcome Dinner at the hotel.

Day 5 | Auckland | Wellington

James Cook Hotel Grand Chancellor

Day 6 | Wellington

James Cook Hotel Grand Chancellor

B | D

Wellington Highlights. Get acquainted with New Zealand's capital city on a panoramic/walking tour that features expansive views over gorgeous Wellington Harbor from Mount Victoria. It was due to this well-situated harbor that this site was chosen in 1839 as the first planned settlement for British immigrants. In 1865, the city of Wellington became the country's capital.

By 1907, after decades of gradual movement toward self-government, New Zealand achieved dominion status with sovereignty over domestic matters, although full independence from the government of Britain would not be officially established until 1947. Today, New Zealand and the United Kingdom maintain a close partnership founded on their shared history and strong cultural ties, including a parliamentary system of government modeled on the British Westminster system. As a constitutional monarchy, New Zealand's formal Head of State is King Charles III.

On your tour, see the Parliament buildings, including the iconic Beehive, which houses the Executive Wing offices of the Prime Minister and senior Cabinet members. After checking out Oriental Bay's splendid scenery and other highlights, step inside a beloved Wellington gem, Old St. Paul's Church. Consecrated in 1866, this Gothic Revival wooden church is adorned with native hardwood timber and fine stained-glass windows.

AHI Connects | Hidden M ori Treasures Walking Tour. Join local Iwi for a fascinating look at the region's M ori heritage at Te Raukura, or Te Wharewaka o PMneke, a 21st-century cultural complex that has restored a M ori presence to Wellington's harbor. At the start of European colonization, Te Aro P , the area's largest traditional village, was located here near the waterfront. View the archaeological remains of a whareponga, or house, at the P site; learn about the people who lived there; and hear tales about the harbor's taniwha, or mythical creatures.

Free Time: Afterward, take a break for lunch on your own and see more of the city center independently.

Dine with your group tonight at a restaurant inside the Beehive building.

Day 15 | Doubtful Sound | Queenstown

Millennium Hotel Queenstown

B | L

Doubtful Sound Tour. A truly memorable day awaits amid the awe-inspiring grandeur of Fiordland National Park, the country's largest national park and a UNESCO World Heritage site, covering 4,868 square miles. Dominating it all are forest and water: verdant woods of red mountain and silver beech, carpeted in moss and ferns, and gorgeous waterfalls, placid lakes, rivers, rippling streams and glacier-carved fiords. Begin with a stop for a coffee or tea in Te Anau along the shores of Lake Anau. Then, board a ferry and cruise across shimmering Lake Manapouri, regarded as New Zealand's most beautiful lake, dotted with 33 little islands and framed by the towering Cathedral Mountain range. Next, travel over the Wilmot Pass and see the Fiordland's rain forest, followed by views of the Doubtful Sound fiord below. The famed explorer Captain James Cook coined the name "Doubtful," when he questioned whether the harbor could be safely navigated by a sailing vessel. He and his crew were the first Europeans to visit the Fiordland area, establishing a camp there for six weeks in 1773. Arrive at the dock and board a catamaran for a three-hour cruise through the pristine stillness of Doubtful Sound, the deepest of New Zealand's fiords. Nature guides on board will help you spot wildlife.
